

DAILY NEWS

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1878

THE CITY.

Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24, 1878.
For the South Atlantic and Gulf States, warm southwest to cooler northwest winds, and a cold barometer will prevail, possibly followed in Texas by rising barometer and a norther.

Index to New Advertisements

J. J. NOWELL—Notice.
LAW—Local notice.
F. GRENDELER—Local notice.
JULIUS LEWIS & CO.—Local notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Remember the poor these merry times.

—The market is well supplied with fish, flesh and fowl.

—The cotton market was somewhat more active yesterday.

—A package, unstamped, addressed to Mrs. Dr. A. F. Osborn, of Lawrenceville, Virginia, is in the post office.

—The United States Circuit Court was adjourned by Marshal J. B. Hill until January 7th, when Judge Bond will be here.

—There will be a reception held by the young lady pupils of the Baptist School to-morrow eve, to which a number of fortunate male friends are invited.

—The shop windows now shine their brightest, and little hearts are lightest, while the youngsters gaze at the El Dorado of beauty within the toystores.

—The man with the bird calls made his appearance yesterday, and the streets will be vocal with imitations of the music of the feathered songsters for many days.

—About two feet of water were yesterday laid out of the cellar of Williams & Haywood's drug store, which was poured in by the engines at the late fire.

—The burned fragments of clothing and other goods in Jackson's store were picked over yesterday, but nothing worth having was found, so complete was the destruction.

—The interior of the guard house presented a lively scene yesterday afternoon, it being filled to overflowing with inebriates of all sorts and sexes, who had so soon begun the festivities of the season.

—The chimney of Peck's store was discovered on fire by officers Scales and Parker, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and sparks were flying about in a dangerous manner, but the fire was soon put out.

—Complaints continue to be made about the inattention of the authorities requiring cotton bales to be removed from the streets by nightfall, and they are asked to enforce the regulations.

—The Happy Ethiopian ministers gave their colored friends a good deal of amusement at Metropolitan Hall last evening, and their efforts in the comic line, which were really creditable, gave much amusement.

—The supply of stationery etc., for the various departments in the capitol have been issued, and the Secretary of State, is now distributing the supplies ordered by the various counties.

—A white man and woman both intoxicated, and in a wagon, caused a slight sensation on Fayetteville street yesterday afternoon. They were put in the guard house but soon released.

—The city was well filled with purchasers of Christmas supplies, and merchants did a rating business. The crowd remained until a late hour in the afternoon, and the streets were all day crowded with country people.

—A fireman called yesterday to suggest that a note be made of the fact that at fires the ringing of the alarm bell should be more prolonged, as oftentimes the firemen are not aroused, as was the case at the terrible fire of last Saturday morning.

—The Indian doctor made his appearance near the market house yesterday, and treated some 100 persons with all they could take of his medicine. Every one partook of the liquids he dealt out, which were said to be sure to effect wonderful cures.

—While excitedly looking on at the arrest of a couple of inebriates yesterday, a police officer, who had been through a gauntlet at the guard house, was rather badly hurt in one leg. In a few moments, after his mishap, another man fell through, getting some severe bruises.

—The question is asked the authorities, whether the fire which started on Fayetteville street, and the one on Hargett street, which were entirely engulfed during the fire, are not trifles. Is there not danger to the whole city in such delays as this? Such a matter should receive prompt attention, as one of vital importance.

—Person.
Col. Walter Clark on Saturday left for his plantation in Halifax county. The people of Halifax are much pleased at the result of the tax injunction suit, in which he took an active part.

—Funeral Notice.
The funeral service, of the late Mr. Sidney T. Smithurst, who died yesterday morning, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Salisbury Street Baptist Church. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

—School Notice.
At the request of many patrons and a large majority of the teachers in the schools of Raleigh Township, the vacation heretofore announced will be the 25th, 26th and 27th of December, and no more.

—Order of the School Committee.
A. W. SHAFFER, Chm.

John Nichols, Secy.

—Dont Forget Them.

To morrow the new boys who have for the past twelve months served you with the news, will call, according to the pleasant custom of the season, with their address. It is hoped that the patrons will have a kind word as well as a more substantial recognition of the carriers who deserve it at their hands.

—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner W. H. Richardson held an inquest on Saturday evening, over the body of Freeman Gandy, who suddenly died in Capitol Square, on Saturday night last. The verdict of the coroner was that the deceased came to his death from natural causes, brought about by diseases of the heart or brain. Dr. Hines did not on Saturday night express any opinion as to the cause of death prior to the Coroner's investigation. He was unable to do so until after a full examination into the previous health and physical condition of the deceased, with reports of his entire recovery.

Forgot Them Not.

The merriest season of the year is now here with its gayeties. In happy homes the dwellers will gather round firesides, or innumerable sports will distract the fill of pleasure's cup. This is the eve of the joyful time, and to-night the stockings will hang by the mantel and kind old Santa Claus will fill them heaping with good things. But these gifts come not to all. There are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort. Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.

Let us, then, their more fortunate fellow mortals do something to make the Christmas brighter for such as these. Besides the poor in our midst, there are others whose misfortunes should loose strings and draw from happier hearts the tenderest thoughts. These are the Orphans at Oxford, that sad-eyed company of 125 "motherless bairns," who owe to the charity of the world their all. Raleigh here has this holiday season brings naught but cold and added discomfort.